CAP NAVAL UNITS DRIVEN OFF AT RENDOVA

The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

THIS is the date which the German controlled Paris radio has been persistently predicting would produce the Allied invasion of Europe—but today, with the invasion still in the future, the Paris station scoffed at the Allies, sarcastically intimating that their plans had gone awry.

It was a patent effort to get out from under the forecast which the station had been drumming for a week.

Certainly prophecy is a tricky business, calling either for vast rashness or great cleverness. Still, had the Paris broadcaster singled out July 3 as the approximate rather than the specific date—and assuming that invasion doesn't come before midnight tonight—he might not have been so far off at that.

One suspects that the Allied high command would agree with him broadly, for indications multiply that we are close to the zero hour of some sort of invasion in the Mediterranean. As previously pointed out, Sicily is a good bet, and the big sister island of Sardinia might be coupled with that for a double.

Dispatches from Spain report heavy movement of Allied shipping into the Mediterranean. Two convoys of transports are said to have cleared Gibraltar yesterday, and another was stated to be arriving there from the Atlantic. A considerable British naval unit, including the warships Nelson and Rodney, are reported anchored in the roadstead of the rock. Meantime the Allies have destroyed more than 20 enemy ships in the Mediterranean during the past week.

Both Sicily and Sardinia—particularly the former—have been blasted with bombs to a point where they are in dire straits. "Palermo the Happy," capital and chief of port of Sicily, has been bombed until American airmen operating Flying Fortresses have reported that this big city is about "finished." The airfields of Sicily, which caused the Allies so much anguish during the fighting in North Africa, also have been blasted until the movement of Axis warplanes from there is said to be light. The British and Americans possess supremacy in that theatre.

The three thousand year old city of Messina, which is one of the most important strategic spots in the Mediterranean, has been once more torn to pieces—this time by bombs. It will be recalled that it was devastated by earthquake in 1908 when more than 77,000 people were killed and 90 per cent of the city was destroyed.

American and British bombers have paid special attention to Messina because its ample harbor is the railway junction with the mainland. Trains are ferried across the strait of Messina, which at its narrowest point is only two miles wide. Naturally the Allies would

CONGRESS MAY RECONSIDER SUBSIDY BILL

Solons Appear To Be In Full Retreat From Previous Stand

LAWMAKERS STUDY PRESIDENT'S VETO

House Refuses To Override Veto; Senate Delays Its Action

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 3.—Congress appeared in full retreat today from its once overwhelmingly strong stand against government-subsidized retail price rollbacks.

President Roosevelt put the issue squarely up to the lawmakers yesterday by vetoing a bill which started out as legislation to continue the Commodity Credit Corp. for another two years, then grew into a proposal outlawing the administration's program to pay processors so prices to the consumer could be cut.

Though both branches had passed this bill by huge majorities, the house refused to override the veto. The senate put off action until today with sentiment growing for some curb on subsidies, rather than outright prohibition.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he would propose limiting CCC's subsidy payments to $250,000,000 for the next six months—an amount he declared was satisfactory to the administration for financing the price rollback on meats, butter and coffee.

The cave-in started after Mr. Roosevelt charged in his veto message that the action "blacks out the program to reduce the cost of living."

"Not Responsible," F. D. R.
Mr. Roosevelt said he would not be responsible for holding the line against inflation if his veto were overridden. He has insisted that unless prices come down, demands for higher wages will multiply and the nation's economy will be caught in a vicious cycle. He said:

"This bill completely outlaws the recent reductions in the price of meat and butter. Congress will compel every housewife to pay five cents a pound more for every pork chop, every ounce of beef, every slice of ham or bacon."

Axis Prisoners In New York Discover City Still Stands

By EDWARD KENNEDY

NEW YORK, July 3. — Of the hundreds of thousands of Axis soldiers captured in Africa, many believe that New York and other eastern cities have been reduced to masses of twisted wreckage by German bombers and that the Japanese have established bridgeheads on the Pacific coast and soon will close in for the kill.

When events were going badly for them in Tunisia, the "imminent collapse" of the United States was offered to them as a reason why they should hold out longer.

I recently arrived at an Atlantic port with the largest group of war prisoners yet brought to this country. We carried thousands of them, both German and Italian.

After the voyage was safely made, their faith in Axis propaganda, which had told them that U-boats controlled the Atlantic and that scarcely any Allied ship could get across, it was a little shaken.

They also found our east coast had not been blitzed. But many of them, especially the Germans, still were confident that they would win the war.

They were not happy men as we slipped away from Africa just after night had fallen. They all felt doomed and showed it. Even their officers thought it was almost certain U-boats would get them.

It was not until the final day, as we approached these shores, that they felt safe. Then their tension broke.

It was plain that there was little love between the Germans and the Italians, but they were segregated and there were no incidents. There was some ill-feeling between regular Italian soldiers and Fascist Blackshirts.

The prisoners had obtained their propaganda at the front from Nazi and Fascist "enlighteners" attached to their armies.

They were told months ago that Moscow had fallen and some still thought it true.

Factories Supply Fireworks For Celebration This Year

The "fireworks" of machines turning out tools of war will supplant traditional Fourth of July pyrotechnics this year.

Sparks from forges, the glow of welding torches in war plants and coal mine blasting operations will supply some of the "fireworks" accompanying the operation of war vital industries as Ohio workers, for the most part, stay on the job over the double holiday.

A varied program of entertainment for the holiday weekend will attract Salem families to the nearby Country clubs, lakes and parks.

In addition to the regular activities which will include swimming, golf and other sports events, committees have arranged musical features and dances.

Club Activities
The Salem Country club will have swimming relays, tennis, and horse-shoe pitching on Monday, followed by a concert by the Salem High school band and a dance in the evening.

Salem Golf club members and guests will have a noon luncheon and flag tournament Monday and the annual Fourth of July dance in the evening.

Picnic dinners and suppers are planned by many families during the weekend to enjoy the many recreational facilities of the reports. Special celebrations in Ohio will be few, only two major cities—Cleveland and Columbus—having scheduled programs comparable with pre-war Fourth.

Cleveland Plans Display
A spectacular display will be staged in Cleveland's stadium Sunday night. More than 3,000 soldiers from Camp Perry and the 729th Military Police battalion will participate in the lake city's fourth annual "Festival of Freedom."

Clevelanders also will watch the unveiling of a statue of George Washington in the American Cultural garden Sunday. Brig. Gen. Robert L. Denig, U. S. Marine corps,

Lisbon Military Board
Lists 499 Names to Date

LISBON, July 3.—The honor roll and war roster board of men from this community who are serving in the armed forces, was brought up to date today when the names of men who were inducted in the June quota were inscribed on the board.

The names of 19 young men, now being placed on the board by J. H. Browne, artist and sign writer who painted the war scene mural on the roster, will make a total of 499 names on the honor roll.

SWIM COURSE PLANNED HERE

Red Cross Instruction Intended to Be Helpful to Those Facing Draft

A swimming course intended especially for youths who may be inducted into military service soon, has been arranged by the Salem chapter of the Red Cross, in compliance with the request of military authorities who ask that men inducted have at least a primary knowledge of swimming. However, Red Cross officials point out, the course is open to anyone interested.

Classes to be taught by Charles Malloy, who recently completed the National Red Cross life-saving and swimming instructors' course at Culver Military academy, will be formed in junior, life-saving and in senior and functional swimming divisions.

Junior life-saving classes are open to boys and girls 12 years old and not more than 16 years old. The senior classes are open to anyone over 17 years of age.

Classes will be held three times each week until completion of the course of instruction—juniors in the afternoon, seniors from 6 to 8 P. M.

The Red Cross announces a four-day aquatic swimming school to be held at the East Palestine municipal pool July 5-9 by George Costello, national Red Cross instructor. The course there will be open only to those who have completed previous senior life-saving courses and will consist of 15 hours of instruction.

Anyone interested in any of the classes here and in East Palestine is asked to call Red Cross chapter headquarters, 5219, to register.

EXPANDING NAVY MEANS MORE MEN

WASHINGTON, July 3. — The rapidly-expanding fleet will result in the addition of 500,000 in navy personnel in the first half of 1944, the War Manpower commission has revealed.

WMC officials said there probably would be no appreciable increase in the army's size during the first six months of next year. The total strength of the armed forces now is 9,300,000. Government sources have indicated this figure will increase to 10,800,000 by the end of 1943 and that boost in navy personnel will bring the total to 11,300,000 by July, 1944.

U. S. BOMBERS DELIVER NEW ITALY BLOWS

Liberators Drop Explosives On Three Southern Air Fields

OFFENSIVE BIGGEST YET CARRIED OUT

Only Three American Aircraft Lost; 12 Enemy Planes Downed

(By Associated Press)
CAIRO, July 3.—Nearly 100 U. S. Liberators smashed at three air fields in southern Italy yesterday in the biggest offensive action yet staged by these four-engine craft from the Middle East, dropping more than 400,000 pounds of bombs on the Italian bases at Lecce, Grottaglie and San Pancrazio.

Lecce and Grottaglie are on the heel of the Italian boot, San Pancrazio is 35 miles north of Rome. The lethal loads included high explosive, fragmentation and incendiary bombs, a U. S. communiqué from Middle East headquarters announced.

Three American planes were lost in delivering the triple punch, this relatively small figure equalling the entire U. S. losses for the month of June in this area.

Hit Grounded Aircraft
Twelve Axis planes were shot down out of clouds of Italian and German fighters that rose to challenge the Liberators, the communiqué said.

"At Lecce, bursts of smoke covered the field, indicating hits on dispersed aircraft," the announcement said. "Other hits were observed on hangars and runways. Fires were left burning behind the hangars and in the dispersal area. A very large fuel fire was observed in the southeast section."

"At Grottaglie, direct hits were scored on hangars and bursts were seen throughout the target area. The dispersal area was blanketed with fragmentation bombs. One enemy aircraft was seen to explode and at least one other was seen burning."

"At San Pancrazio, the target area was well covered with bursts. Squadrons of the northwest Africa air command made new raids yesterday upon Palermo, Sicily, and Cagliari in Sardinia. Allied headquarters announced, and B-25 Mitchells of the tactical air force raided Castelvetrano airfield in Sicily. None of these aircraft was lost, and one Axis fighter was reported downed."

The Italian communiqué asserted 24 Allied planes were shot down, 12 of which were four-engine Liberators. The communiqué listed 77 persons killed and 162 injured in six towns, with the highest toll 32 dead and 68 injured at Palermo.

FIRE RAZES BARN NORTH OF LISBON

LISBON, July 3.—A large barn on the Paul Denkhous farm, five miles northwest of Lisbon on the old Depot rd., was destroyed by fire about 10 p. m. Friday.

The blaze, which lighted the sky for two hours attracting several hundred people from the vicinity was discovered by neighbors in the absence of the family. The fire, when discovered, had made such headway that neighbors were unable to save the building or its contents, with the exception of a tractor and attached mowing machine. Livestock and crops in the barn were lost. The loss, it is believed, is only partially covered by insurance.

MINE UNION ASKS ALL MINERS BACK

"Nothing To Be Gained By Strike" Journal Editorial Points Out

WASHINGTON, July 3. — The leadership of the United Mine Workers admonished all members today to return to work because "there is nothing to be gained" by continued striking and "the war cannot be won without an adequate supply of coal."

Thousands still are off the job in the coal fields. "By returning to work," said the lead editorial in the United Mine Workers journal, "the mine workers are not forfeiting collective bargaining or their right to negotiate a wage agreement with the coal operators embodying partial-to-total pay and other benefits."

"Certainly, under these conditions, coal miners have nothing to lose by their resumption of work until such time as a satisfactory agreement can be reached or the policy committee is called into meeting again to canvass the situation and to determine a further course of action."

"We are at war. We must win the war. The war cannot be won without an adequate supply of coal. American coal miners don't want to strike. They don't want to impede the war effort."

The UMW editorial said that Republic Steel Co. and U. S. Steel, operating in Alabama, had declined to store coal "for the reason that they did not want to pay overtime rates for six-day employment and spend the money necessary to pick up the stored coal in the case of a shortage."

Reports from the fields indicated approximately 97,000 of the nation's 321,000 miners still were on strike, including 77,800—more than half of them hard coal miners—in Pennsylvania, 16,000 in Alabama, 2,500 in Virginia and 700 in Tennessee. Absenteeism also was running from 10 to 20 per cent in many mines.

The amount of coal lost in the two weeks during which all or part of the miners have been idle was estimated at more than 10,000,000 tons.

Numerous UMW locals are meeting over the weekend to consider their leaders' pleas to end the walkout.

GOERING REPORTED "A VERY SICK MAN"

STOCKHOLM, July 3. — The Goeteborg newspaper Handels-Och Sjoefartstidning, quoting what it said was reliable quarters, reported today Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering was "very ill" from "a nervous breakdown with serious heart trouble."

As late as last Thursday night, the newspaper said, Goering's condition was very bad and two specialists were assigned to treat him. The newspaper added that his wife, Emmy, was at his bedside night and day.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel was said to have represented Goering, the number 2 Nazi, at the last session of the Reich defense council and it was recalled here that he has been out of the public eye for months.

Americans and Australians Threaten Salamaua from Three Sides

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Japanese cruisers and destroyers endeavoring to turn their big guns on American positions at Rendova island were driven off by United States naval units in a sharp engagement early today.

This was reported today by the Navy which said the enemy task force of seven warships included three cruisers and four destroyers. They moved in, the Navy said, in an unsuccessful bombardment attempt.

The size of the United States force which met and repulsed the Japanese ships was not disclosed by the Navy, which said, however, that "the enemy ships retired in short order."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, July 3.—American and Australian jungle fighters menaced the Japanese air base of Salamaua on the northeast coast of New Guinea from three sides today in the growing Pacific offensive, while in the Central Solomons, at the other end of a 700-mile arc, pressure was maintained on the enemy air base of Munda.

Today's communiqué from headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme commander of operations, reported as the latest success a juncture of Australian patrols from Mubo, 12 miles south and inland from Salamaua, with the Americans who landed on the coast at Nassau bay Wednesday. This completed the first phase of the new operations there.

In addition to patrols below and behind that enemy base, other patrols have been reported above it in the vicinity of Malolo.

Realizing the peril posed at Salamaua, which has a good airfield within easy fighter range of Japanese-held New Britain island, the enemy sent 10 planes against the Americans at Nassau bay Thursday afternoon, the latest communiqué disclosed without further elaboration.

Bitter Fighting Reported
It was emphasized here that despite bitter jungle fighting in progress on a patrol basis along the New Guinea coastal front, this drive likely is considered at the immediate capture of Salamaua.

Any push along the coast from Nassau bay northward would be almost impossible because of densely tangled jungle and swamps.

INDEPENDENCE... REVITALIZED

It took a long time for the spark of independence in the American colonists to spread into a blaze. Many times it sputtered and threatened to go out.

The path to freedom and the obligations of sovereignty were not always clear. There had to be trial and error; the half-convinced and the faint-hearted had to be licked with one hand while the British were being licked with the other. Some Americans loathed freedom.

They decided it would be easier, on the whole, just to let someone else exercise the sovereignty while they raised food and made money, living out their span of life as wards of paternalism. They didn't go along with the new republic willingly; they had to be forced. They were always ready to insist it was time to stop where they were, to cease struggling, to enjoy what they had and not worry about the things someone else said they should have.

They wanted to believe a time would come at last when America could take independence for granted, instead of fighting to preserve it. They wanted to believe there would be a day when freedom would be safe from attack by enemies and professed friends. They wanted to quit fighting and be eternally pleasant, resting on the laurels of the freedom to which they had contributed nothing.

They are still with us today, in the newest battle of the endless war for human dignity, still forgetting that independence must be revitalized endlessly to survive, still wanting to think the whole thing was done permanently by a ragged army under George Washington that had to withstand almost as much punishment from its enemies at home as was inflicted by the military professionals sent from abroad to discourage independence.

SEARCH FOR A FOOD POLICY

Congress has rejected a food subsidy program that developed as an administrative expedient to conceal the fact that price control was breaking down at various points.

Congress has not rejected the subsidy principle, however, which is an important thing to be borne in mind. The principle will continue to be applied in some lines and is available for application to other lines.

In the nation's search for a workable food policy, the Roosevelt administration has been given the benefit of congressional judgment, something it had not sought on the controversial practice of using public money conceal increases in cost of food to consumers. Congress is opposed to this subterfuge. It is not necessarily opposed to the use of public funds to stimulate production of food and to facilitate its proper distribution.

Subsidies, it is reasonable to suppose, will find a useful place in the more comprehensive food program being hatched out on the anvil of public controversy. That program must include some thing so far neglected. First, there will have to be more effective coordination of all government activities affecting food production, which means termination of the situation that looked so hopeless to Chester C. Davis that he resigned as food administrator. Second, there will have to be realization from the top to bottom of the government and throughout the country generally that the food problem is not a problem in mathematics that can be solved by merely applying the right formula, once it is found, but one of the greatest of all wartime hazards, subject to many forces which no government can control.

To sum up, a better coordinated organization needs to be given and to grant more patience in dealing with a matter that calls for the best brains and highest ingenuity of the nation—that must be given attention equal to or greater than that given to industrial production and distribution. Food is one of the weapons with which the United States hopes to win the war, not a subject for improvisation which is what national food policy has resembled so far.

GEN. MACARTHUR STARTS BACK

The pieces of news from the Pacific are being fitted together hopefully by a nation which would be almost as willing to settle for a second front there as in Europe. It looks as though Gen. MacArthur might be starting back to keep that long-deferred engagement in the Philippines.

In any event, first reports of new offensive action undertaken in the South Pacific for a year are encouraging if only for the reason that everything in the American tradition calls for taking the initiative. The apparent assumption in Washington that strategy called for the United States to fight a holding war against Japan, giving the Japanese a chance to grow stronger while the European end of the Axis was made ready for destruction, never has been accepted with any enthusiasm.

Perhaps a few minor island forays now shouldn't be taken seriously. But they are being taken seriously, not for themselves but for the promise they hold out of the beginning of Pacific action on a major scale. It has been taken for granted since the attack on the Solomons last summer that the United States was on its way back to the Philippines eventually. Today, most Americans want to believe that eventually is now; that this is the beginning of the major offensive that Japanese militarists seem to have been expecting for the last several months as they warned the people to prepare for the worst.

PROSPECTUS

There will come, in due course of time, a Fourth of July that will be the first in the post-war era.

Every patriot will plan to make his day off a thing of beauty and a joy forever. There may be a few boot-legged firecrackers set off at the crack of dawn. It will be a great occasion.

The highways will be filled, curb to curb, with automobiles going somewhere bumper-to-bumper. Overhead, the air will be buzzing with airplanes. Sweethearts will idle along in helicopters, endangering the life and limb of respectable families out for a holiday spin in their family "windmills," or perhaps coming back from the amusement park in an aerial bus.

Winners will be consumed by the hundreds of millions. There will be doubleheaders in all the ball parks. The beaches will crawl with bathers and sunbathers. Everybody will be rested and eager and anxious to be good company. Things will be running smoothly in Washington. The world will be at peace, life will be a bowl of cherries and the potato salad at the picnic will be the best ever.

When it is over the casualties will be counted by the score and all other participants will agree they never had more fun in their lives. Except for the serial traffic, it will be just like old times—and there aren't many Americans who wouldn't settle for it right now if they could be sure of getting it without alterations.

THE STARS SAY:

For Sunday, July 4

SUNDAY'S horoscope encourages the holiday spirit to the 10th degree, with the spirit of adventure and the quest for happiness greatly stimulated by the planetary operations. Romance and adventure are to the fore, relegating all else but parties and celebrations to the background. There may be unexpected gain, but be alert in business. In all connections suppress rash and impulsive conduct of recklessness.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a very active and enterprising year in which there may be unexpected gains or adventures out of the ordinary, with promise of much profit and unusual advantage. Increased prestige and popularity in both business and private affairs may be seen, but don't be carried away by reckless and ill-considered moves or indulgences. Be alert to deceit or petty snares.

A child born on this day may have much talent and ingenuity for a successful career, perhaps in an unusual line of a creative or inventive nature. It will be popular, congenial and should gain through friends and elders.

For Monday, July 5

MONDAY'S astrological forecast holds augury of the breaking up of a long crystallized or static condition by some brilliant idea, applied with force, directness and a high degree of cleverness and resourcefulness. Originality counts.

Those whose birthday it is are promised decisive action, with promotion and cooperation or approbation, because of some stroke of genius, originality or ingenuity in special skill or invention. Force, energy and direct attack should win against setbacks or treachery. Persist in effort with resolution and determination. Elders and superiors endorse brilliant ideas.

A child born on this day should possess much ingenuity, mental and physical energy, and stability. It will earn the admiration and support of its elders, employers and be popular and attractive.

kind of fireworks that maimed and killed thousands of citizens in former years. But the Fourth of July has a way of bringing news that calls for celebration in the United States.

In 1898 our citizens woke up July third to know that San Juan Hill had been captured and the hold of Spain in America forever broken. In 1918 the Second Battle of the Marne had progressed far enough by July 4th to let us know that the waves of Germany's final supreme war effort had broken and failed.

Experts Aren't Experts
So perhaps this year some good news will overwhelm common sense and stimulate some enthusiasts to go in for fireworks and toy cannons in a big enough way to endanger the lives of some valuable citizens. In 1941, in my enlightened community, at a display of fireworks at a country club, conducted by a pyrotechnics expert, a child of four was killed and 10 others injured when an aerial bomb went along the ground instead of going into the air. If a pyrotechnics expert can have such an accident, what can one expect of the amateurs?

This year, it is true, the major source of danger will be eliminated—the holiday toll of motor accidents. Those, however, are in a class where no amount of preventive medicine can be calculated to do any good. Advice to Laertes about how to drive his car goes down the same wide open sluices into forgetfulness that the original words of Polonius went.

The chief warning that the medical adviser wants to emphasize on the Fourth of July is about the prevention of tetanus or lockjaw. In fireworks injuries even of the most apparently trivial nature that is still a hazard. From 1903 to 1918 the American Medical Association presented annually the deaths from Fourth of July injuries, especially warning about the danger of tetanus.

In 1916 these were discontinued because that was the year when not a single case of tetanus was reported. It is significant, however, that in 1937 they resumed these reports and warnings: in that year 20 deaths occurred in the United States on the Fourth of July and there were two cases of tetanus.

Preventive Measures Necessary
It is often doubted among medical men whether there is much danger of tetanus from injuries in which street dirt may enter the wound, now that the horse is an unfamiliar visitor to our streets. But an investigation in Baltimore in 1937 showed that 17 per cent of samples of street dirt taken at random contained tetanus bacilli.

The only safe thing to do if there is a fireworks injury with an open wound into which street dirt might have entered is to have a preventive measure of tetanus antitoxin administered immediately.

Questions and Answers
M. J.: A woman 53 years of age has a tumor developing between her breast and arm pit. It is causing her worry because she believes that if a tumor of this kind is taken out others will come in its place.

Answer: The proper procedure here is to have the tumor removed and submitted to pathological examination under a microscope. This procedure is called a biopsy. If it is a true cancer, further operation will probably be necessary. There is no danger of other tumors recurring in the same spot if the removal is properly done and if true cancer is not present.

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—Skeet shooting, popular peacetime sport of wealthy men, now is a method of training Marine gunners. Firing a 12-gauge shotgun, Marine marksmen try to shatter a clay disc as it flies through the air at about 60 miles an hour. The sport teaches them the important principles of leading and timing when aiming at enemy planes.

They're Fighting FOR OUR INDEPENDENCE TODAY

There's a bullet in a man's leg today—SO WE CAN BE FREE! So the Nazis won't come over and teach us to be slaves!

There's a MAN with a bandage on his head fighting off eight Japanese planes today—SO WE CAN BE FREE! So the Japs won't dictate where we can live and how!

There's a MAN daring death in the cold belly of a submarine today—SO WE CAN BE FREE! So our legally elected representatives can govern from our Capitol instead of an Axis leader dictating HIS laws for US.

Are we doing everything WE can so OUR SOLDIERS CAN FIGHT ON—for us?

Are we working to the limit of our strength at our WAR job

Are we doing our part in civilian defense?

Are we saving every dime and dollar we can to by War Bonds?

Are we?

WARM WEATHER HAT IS CASUAL, COMFORTABLE

Left, white calot trimmed with flowers; top right, draped fish-net turban; below, crocheted calot with veil.

Warm weather is the time for casual clothes, and they should be comfortable, and this pertains to hats as well as dresses. One excellent solution to the problem of comfortable headgear is the basic calot that can see you through many different occasions, which is illustrated in the three models above. At the left is a white calot with a slit through which is inserted a decorated comb topped with white flowers. You can select your combs in styles and colors to complement every costume. Top right is a Balinese fish-net head-drape turban. It is a wrap-around. You place the crown of the turban on your head and let the ends fall down the back. Cross ends up and forward, catching up side and back hair. Cross the ends in front and twist into a miniature pillbox, and fasten with the two ornamental pins. The third model is a crocheted calot accented with a black velvet bow-comb.

"Firecrackers and vacation jaunts out for the duration. Bombs bursting in the air.... the rocket's red glare.... just so our flag is still there. No mood of gaiety can prevail when the pure air of freedom enjoyed since 1776 is so contaminated. Mr. Average Citizen, beset by threats from foreign shores and confused by theorists here at home, has little inclination to be merry at this time. Rather indulge in sober reflection and meditation like our fathers did in the dark days before the revolution. Gladly would we dispense with the high pressure speeches and fanfare if it were possible to breathe deeply the pure air of freedom once more.

July 4, should be a day of prayer. The same God who directed the earnest Pilgrims to the shores of America and later strengthened the Colonists to throw off the yoke of tyranny is still the one true God. In His presence we too find our destiny of freedom and peace. If only the people of our and every community would turn to the House of God and be reminded therein of the basic truths involved in government and true freedom. The lesson would be learned anew that government, our government, was instituted by God, that a Christian owes obedience to his government, that God commands prayers for rulers and all that are in authority, that righteousness exalted a nation, and finally, that God has established the bonds of nations."

—Rev. John Bauman.

"The person that stands still is in fact going backwards. This is true as we think of the moving stream of life. It is not enough to hold your own. There is progress in life and unless you move along, you will be in the rearward. There is to be no resting at ease in Zion for Christians and the Kingdom of God. The victories of the past are not cause to be lulled to sleep. Resting on laurels of the past may be a false security. Christians must be willing to grow and develop. We are to grow in grace and in knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Nations and people may be very confident of their nominal faith, but such a dormant faith never does produce activity that is pleasing to God. The signs of life of a plant may be observed as it grows and develops. A living Christian must grow and increase in strength in the work of the Kingdom of God." Rev. G. D. Keister.

"What's The Difference?"

"At this time, when we are commemorating again the event which marked officially the independence of our nation, every American citizen would do well to ponder the words of Charles A. Wells:

"Many of the people who have had so much to say about religious persecution abroad would be very indignant if we told them that they are creating the same loss of culture and spiritual life at home. For what difference does it make whether they quit the worship of God because they have to—or because they just do not care? The results are the same, empty churches, empty hearts and empty lives. When we stay away from church and neglect those interests which make for a better community, we are doing just exactly what the Nazis and Bolsheviks try to accomplish through compulsion. They know that religion is the one force that fosters and protects man's individual rights and his liberty, but it does not matter whether religion dies from violence or neglect—liberty and human rights will just as surely perish."—Rev. Mosher.

TO: Every American on a Payroll FROM: The Secretary of the Treasury

SUBJECT: The New Pay-As-You-Go Method of Collecting Your Income Tax

Starting July 1st, both your Income and Victory Tax will be collected by an entirely new and more convenient method.

Under the old system, you were obliged every March 15th to pay either the full tax for the previous year, or a quarter of that amount. Under the new system, you will keep paid up from month to month.

After July 1st, your employer is obliged by the new law to withhold every month a part of your wages and turn the money into the United States Treasury as payment on your Income and Victory Tax.

Of course, the amount that your employer withholds will depend upon your pay and your exemptions. But this is the important point: For most of us, the amount withheld over a year's period will add up to the same that we're paying now—plus or minus a few dollars.

At the end of the year, we may owe the Government a few dollars or the Government may owe us. (See the tables below.)

You may have heard 20% mentioned as the proportion of your wages that will be withheld. Actually, this is incorrect. To figure the amount that will be withheld, take your total wages and subtract your allowance for exemptions and allowance for dependents; 20% of this lesser amount is the total that will be withheld.

Now please remember this: You must claim those exemptions to take advantage of them. Before July 1st, you must file with your employer an Exemption Certificate. If you do not do this, your employer will have no choice but to deduct 20% of your full pay check.

Here is how the new tax collection method will work: Let's say you are a working man earning $3,000 a year; that you are married, and have two children.

First of all, as a married man you are allowed a personal withholding exemption of $1,248, plus an exemption of $312 for each dependent (other than your wife). This makes a total exemption of $1,872 ($1,248 for yourself and wife, plus $624 for your two dependents), which is deducted from the $3,000 you earn before your tax is computed. You are thus paying tax on $1,128, of which your employer will withhold 20%, or $225.60 for the year. Therefore, in your pay envelope, after July 1, you will receive about $4.40 less each week.

In March, 1944, when you ordinarily would be faced with paying taxes on your 1943 income, you will file a return showing how much you have already paid, and how much your total tax actually amounted to. If, by that time, you have already paid more than your actual tax due, you will be given credit for the difference. If you owe more than you have paid, you will pay the difference.

Since this plan starts July 1, many wonder what happens to the tax payments they will already have made by that time—on March 15 and June 15.

For a great majority of people, here is what happens. . . . Your 1942 income tax is "forgiven" (either all, or most of it). The March and June installments which you originally paid on that 1942 income tax are credited, instead, as payments on your 1943 tax. With the result that on July 1st, with the year half gone, you have already paid tax on that half-year's income. In short, you are "paying as you go."

There is one thing more. Since this pay-as-you-go method leaves you just as much of your net income as you had before, you will probably find it possible to at least maintain your present rate of buying War Bonds. Do this by all means!

Taxes alone will not bring to the Treasury nearly enough money to finance the great invasion war that lies ahead. The war needs every cent of your money that does not go for the necessities of life.

If the amount withheld is less than your total Income and Victory tax for the year, you will pay the difference to the Government.

YOU CAN STILL BUY WAR BONDS!

If you've used the tables correctly, you've found out that the pay-as-you-go method leaves you just as much of your income as you had before—with the advantage that your income tax is practically paid in full. If you lose your job, you'll owe nothing on your current income. And if you should die, or be injured so that you can't work—your family will have no 1943 income tax payments to worry about.

This being the case—you should be able to continue to buy War Bonds at the same rate you are now buying—through the Pay Roll Savings Plan. With many families having combined incomes far higher than at any previous time—they should be able to invest a large part of this income in War Bonds. Thus you will help to finance the great invasion that lies ahead—to provide the materials our fighting men must have—and to save up for yourself reserve money that will buy much more in the years to come.

So—be patriotic, be smart, and be thrifty—and buy MORE War Bonds.

Recreations, Bliss Are Winners In Class A Encounters

Furnaces Are Shut Out, 2-0, By Recreations; A.C.'s And Sheens Are Class B Winners

Phillips of the Recreations allowed the Electric Furnaces only two hits last evening at Centennial park as the Electric Furnaces were shut out, 2 to 0. Six hits by the Recreations accounted for two runs by Primm and Pauline in the third inning of the duel.

Although they were out-hit two to one, Bliss managed to score two runs in the sixth inning of the other Class A league game last night to beat Scotts, 3-1. Scotts, credited with six hits, had tied the game 1-1 with a run in the fourth. Three errors didn't help the losers any.

The Class B games saw the East End A.C.'s place their hits to drop the Friends, 5 to 3, in a six-inning encounter, and Sheens drub the Slovaks, 14 to 4, scoring four runs in one inning and seven more in the fifth.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, July 3.—That yawning gap at shortstop in the Dodgers' lineup (which Red Barkley may or may not have filled) doesn't even draw a yawn from Aviation Cadet Claude Corbitt, who might have handled the job very well. The only comment an interviewer could get from him was a stereotyped remark that all the clubs were having a hard time finding young fellows to fill positions. . . but Claude expects to be playing with the Dodgers after the war if it doesn't last too long. "I'm only 27; I am still young and have several good playing years ahead of me," he said. Corbitt is going through the final stage of training at the Columbus, Miss., army air field.

Nixon Denton, Cincinnati Times-Star: "The University of Kentucky, which offered football Wednesday for the duration of the war, is different from a lot of schools. You wouldn't find many colleges complaining about a player shortage if, like us, they had the striking coal miners of Breathitt and Harlan counties where they could put their fingers on them."

Johnny Blood, the famous wandering halfback of the pro football league, has wandered clear to Delhi, India, where he's stationed with the U. S. forces. . . Pvt. Patty Berg Snatches Western Tournament

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 3.—Patty Berg played the greatest guessing game in golf to capture the Women's Western Open and successfully cap her comeback in tournament competition.

Dot Kirby, from Atlanta, Ga., made Patty go the entire 36-hole route yesterday and the little Minneapoli, redhead staged one of the most sensational rallies in the 14-year history of the open to win, 1-0.

It was the most holes Patty had played since injuring her knee 18 months ago. Her leg was so sore she could not kneel to sight the rolls of Glen Oak's tricky greens. So all she could do was to guess.

After her victory, Patty signed an application to join the Marines, women's reserve, and will take her physical examination in Minneapolis Wednesday.

INDIANS SCHEDULE BOSTON RED SOX

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, July 3.—The Cleveland Indians are back in third place today, just four games back of the New York Yankees, victims of yesterday's 12-run, one-inning Tribal uprising.

The Indians take out after the second-place Boston Red Sox tonight, with a double header scheduled with the same team tomorrow and another twin bill looming against Philadelphia Monday.

Allie Reynolds held the Yankees to three hits yesterday and his mates presented him a 12 to 0 victory—all carved out in a single inning—as the series ended on a 2 to 1 margin for Cleveland.

The big fourth inning was the whole ball game for the Indians, the tribe banging out 11 hits, chasing Marius Russo from the mound, and scoring more runs than they had previously scored in any game.

national leaguer Jim Turner was called in to stem the tide, which he did after eight runs scored. The inning saw 12 runs, 10 hits, three bases on balls and an error.

Texas Aggies To Carry On

AP Features
COLLEGE STATION, Texas — If you were a football coach and found the armed services had left you only three letter men—and that most of your freshman prospects hadn't stayed long enough to sweat down their jerseys—what would your attitude be on sports?

Yeah, many coaches not only would be looking for jobs in defense plants or commissions in the Army but expressing the opinion that athletics should be suspended in wartime. Some probably would opine that sports wouldn't be patriotic anyway.

Well, there is no change in the attitude of soft-spoken Homer Norton, headman of Texas A. and M. who faces the next grid season with about the slimmest prospects in the history of the college.

"I think athletics are patriotic and have a definite place in wartime," said the mentor of the once-mighty Aggies. "The athletes make fine soldiers and we should continue to develop young manhood in all the fields of sport. We'll take lickings next fall, but what of it. We're fighting for the greatest championship of all now and defeats in football mean little if we are developing the youth of the country for the great task ahead."

You can't call this flag-waving because Norton has much at stake. He makes his living, you know, by coaching football teams. Coaches, you know also, need to keep their records up.

There will be no one at A. and M. college hurt by defeats like Homer Norton. But he's ready to go on. In fact, he insists on it.

The Aggies—what there are of them—will be in there fighting, is the word from the headman of Kyle field.

HAEGG BEATS DODDS IN TWO-MILE RUN

CHICAGO, July 3.—Sweden's thin man, Gunder Haegg, rested in a hotel room today before taking off for the west coast for another two-mile race with Gil Dodds, who made the great runner exert himself considerably last night to win his second start on American soil.

Haegg posted the third fastest outdoor two-mile ever run in this country in beating the Boston divinity student by 20 yards at Soldier field. This time was 9:02.8, which was regarded as remarkably fast on a track which he described as soft as a "potato field."

Rogers Hornsby Says

Greatest Team Was Chisox Of 1919

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Feature Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex.—The greatest baseball team he ever saw—and he looked over quite a few in two decades as player and manager in the big leagues—was Chicago's White Sox of 1919, says Rogers Hornsby.

"Yeah, I know they were the Black Sox and as such have been justly discredited, but as ball players that entire team, position by position, had unmatched skill. The records bear that out," Hornsby said.

The Rajah, now living here waiting for the Texas league to resume operations so he can manage the Fort Worth Cats again, gave his views in connection with a magazine article quoting Manager Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cardinals as saying the 1942 world's champions were the best.

Blames Yankees For Cards' Win
Last fall, before the start of the World Series, the outspoken Hornsby stated, in reply to questions, that the 1942 Cardinals weren't in the same class with the 1926 Cardinals, whom Hornsby managed and led to victory over the New York Yankees.

The Rajah also guessed Southworth's youngsters would not fare well

YANKEES, DODGERS AT CROSSROAD IN BIG LEAGUE PLAY

What They Do Over Week-end May Determine Final Standings

BY TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers stand at the crossroads today. What they do against the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals over the doubleheader jammed holiday weekend may determine their final ranking in the American and National leagues.

Both clubs have looked bad in losing two in a row to the Cleveland Indians and Cincinnati Reds, respectively. The Indians yesterday humiliated the once proud Bronx Bombers by not only shutting them out 12 to 0, on Allie Reynolds' three-hit pitching, but by scoring all 12 runs in a terrific fourth inning.

Such a manhandling has not happened to the Yankees in years. To top things off the Yanks lost the services of Left Fielder Charley Keller for an indefinite period. He was accidentally spiked on the left knee trying to steal second in the first inning.

The Dodgers, who muffed a chance to tie the Cards by losing to the Reds on Thursday, dropped a full game behind yesterday by getting blanked, 8 to 0, by Elmer Riddle.

Hubbell Is Beaten
Gallant Carl Hubbell of the Giants tried to beat the Cards for his fourth win of the year, but instead suffered his second defeat, 5 to 3.

Possibly inspired by the rout of the Yanks, Washington came from behind to tie the Chicago White Sox in the ninth, then won in the 11th, 3 to 2, on Jake Early's double and Johnny Sullivan's single.

Truett "Rip" Sewell of the Pittsburgh Pirates held their hotel, Picher Joe Heving and Outfielder Hank Edwards of the Cleveland Indians were recovering from injuries today. Heving was hospitalized after the accident last night. Dr. M. H. Castle, team physician, said the hurler apparently suffered a concussion but his condition was not serious. Edwards was treated for body bruises.

Gertrude Ederle was the first woman to swim the channel on Aug. 6, 1926.

Two Indian Stars Hurt When Hit by Automobile

CLEVELAND, July 3.—Struck by an automobile near their hotel, Picher Joe Heving and Outfielder Hank Edwards of the Cleveland Indians were recovering from injuries today. Heving was hospitalized after the accident last night. Dr. M. H. Castle, team physician, said the hurler apparently suffered a concussion but his condition was not serious. Edwards was treated for body bruises.

Gertrude Ederle was the first woman to swim the channel on Aug. 6, 1926.

in the test before them. That guess didn't prove out but Hornsby didn't backtrack on his opinion of comparative strength of teams.

He only added that he had made the mistake of taking for granted that the Yankees, whom he had not seen, were good when, as a matter of fact, they'd gone down even more than the National League champions, whom he had watched the last few games of the regular season.

But Hornsby didn't take Southworth to task for his views. "You can't blame him for that," Rogers said. "Doesn't every manager of a winner feel like his team is the best?"

1926 Team Had Great Spirit
Hornsby didn't think, however, that his 1926 team was the best in baseball. Grinning, he said:

"That 1926 bunch was a fine team; it had great spirit and played together well, but man-for-man it wasn't the world's best; it wasn't even the best team in the National League that year, but it won the pennant and went ahead to beat a better New York team."

"But you can't blame a fellow in Southworth's position for bragging about the team that won for him—after all, he is still the manager of virtually the same team."

In picking the 1919 White Sox, Hornsby commented: "I can't say about the best team of all time—I can only have an opinion about those teams I saw; about those teams made up of players I know about. Of those teams I think I'd take the Chicago White Sox of 1919."

need to sever this communication, to cut off reinforcements and supplies, before attempting invasion of Sicily.

Incidentally, the Strait of Messina is a raceway of tides. It's here that Scylla and Charybdis used to torture the ancients. Scylla was a formation of rock and Charybdis was a whirlpool which swirled nearby. Ships in trying to avoid Scylla frequently were drawn into the waiting maelstrom and lost, and it still remains a difficult passage for any captain.

The Anglo-British forces are proceeding methodically with their preliminary bombardment of Italian positions, giving indications that they don't intend to be rushed. One would expect a similar procedure when it comes to invasion of the Italian mainland, if indeed that is attempted. With Sicily and Sardinia occupied, the way would be cleared for bigger operations, but if these two big islands are the first objectives, the Anglo-American expedition quite likely will pause before entering another phase of the attack.

Typographical Union's Wage Boost Is Denied

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Denial of 7 1/2 per cent wage increase sought by the Cleveland Typographical Union for members employed by Cleveland's three major daily newspapers was announced today by the National War Labor Board.

Labor members dissented from this decision, which said the action was in line with the board's policy of not granting increases tending to destabilize wages within an industry.

The WLB said data presented by the bureau of labor statistics showed the present rate paid typographical workers on the three papers already was above rates paid in the majority of cities of comparable size. It announced the Jan. 1, 1941, rate for journeyman printers was $1.35 an hour, and that a 10-cent hourly raise had been granted since that date.

JAPS DRIVEN OFF IN PACIFIC CLASH

Sharp Engagement off Rendova Island Reported By U. S. Navy

started shelling the enemy Munda airfield and where the important harbor of Viru on New Georgia was captured, no changes in positions were reported. Today's communique told of an air battle on Thursday over Rendova in which 14 Japanese zeros and eight dive bombers were shot down at a cost of eight Allied fighters.

These figures were the same as those reported Thursday in an earlier announcement from Allied headquarters in the South Pacific which placed Japanese air losses in the first two days of the offensive at 123.

There was no further word of Allied naval action in the Northern Solomons. But the mighty Allied air force, whose widespread activity has been impressive from the outset of the new drive, continued to play a major role. Seeking to keep Japan's plane concentrations at Rabaul, New Britain, pinned to their fields, Allied fighters and flying fortresses dropped 33 tons of bombs there. All got home safely.

North of Munda in the Solomons, American medium bombers which had a lighter escort sank a 1,500 ton Japanese cargo ship at Baloko anchorage.

Supporting ground action around Salamaua, other medium bombers attacked Japanese positions at Kela point and along the trail to Lolui village, starting fires and explosions. They also silenced some anti-aircraft positions.

POSTHUMOUS AWARD FOR SOLDIER GIVEN

WELLSVILLE, July 3.—Mrs. Rose Sorge returned to her home here today, carrying a Distinguished Service Cross which was awarded posthumously to her brother, Corp. Daniel F. Rini, who was killed Dec. 6 in the Buna area of New Guinea.

The award was presented to the sister at Fort Hayes, Columbus, by Col. Herbert E. Taylor, commanding officer, in the presence of 800 soldiers, the commander's staff and visitors. General Douglas MacArthur ordered the citation.

Corp. Rini, an infantryman, was killed while mopping up an enemy machine gun nest after he led a volunteer patrol against a strongly fortified Jap position.

The hero, who was a Wellsville football and baseball star before his induction into the army, had been in service since Jan. 21, 1941, and he had been overseas since April, 1942.

Held In Akron Shooting

AKRON, July 3.—Clemente Di Giammerino, 41, waived preliminary hearing before Judge Thomas M. Powers on a charge of murder and was bound to the grand jury in the fatal shooting last Tuesday of Charles Reiter, 50, in front of the R. F. Goodrich Co. Detective Capt. Thomas Lynett quoted Di Giammerino as saying he intended to shoot his estranged wife, Helen, but that Reiter stepped in front of her.

Harness Driver Dies

CLEVELAND, July 3.—Will Caton, harness horse driver for half a century, is dead at 65. He succumbed at his home in nearby Bedford yesterday following a long illness. Caton won the Hambletonian stake at Goshen, N. Y., in 1932 with the Marchioness and for 25 years piloted horses for Russian nobility after the Grand Duke saw him in action at the 1893 Chicago world's fair.

Theatre Attractions

George Montgomery and Betty Grable are co-starred with Cesar Romero in Twentieth Century Fox's latest gay and exciting musical, "Coney Island."

Betty Grable, George Montgomery and Cesar Romero are starred in the technicolor musical, "Coney Island," which comes to the State Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Curvaceous Betty plays the part of a song and dance girl—the torrid toast of Coney's sun-drenched boardwalk. George Montgomery and Cesar Romero are a pair of fast talking double-crossing partners bent on winning fair Betty.

The adventures of a young jockey learning to ride, as well as the tricks of the racing game, plus a human interest story, introduces Bobby Readick in "Harrison's Kid," which will be at the State Wednesday only. Frank Craven and William Gargan have the leading supporting roles.

"Bataan" will be at the State Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The story deals with 13 men whose nationalities make them a literal cross-section of American life. They are detailed to blow up bridge and fight a delaying action against the Japanese to cover the evacuation of Bataan peninsula.

"The Boy From Stalingrad," sensational new drama of Russia's youthful guerrillas, is scheduled at the Grand Sunday and Monday along with "Captive Wild Woman," which casts John Carradine and Evelyn Ankers in the leading roles. A double feature, "Thumbs Up" and "Ladies Day," with Lupe Velez, Eddie Albert, Patsy Kelly and Max Baer, is billed at the Grand for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Trick Saves Life

PARACHUTING from his plane at Guadalcanal, Lieut. Henry Matson of Rochester, N. Y., saw Jap planes heading for him with machine-gun fire. He screwed up his face to resemble a Jap, so the Nipponese would veer off. The trick saved Matson's life. (International)

Government Spent Over Seventy-Eight Billion Last Year

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Federal spending during the fiscal year just ended—a year marked by a turn in our fortunes of war—totaled $78,178,855,240, more than double that of the previous 12-month period, and sent the public debt to $140,796,033,375, compared with $76,990,704,746 a year ago.

This government's cost of waging total war accounted for 92 per cent of all spending, hitting a year-end total of $72,108,862,204—nearly three times the $26,011,065,089 spent during the previous fiscal year.

In a statement reviewing the financial year which closed June 30, Treasury Secretary Morgenthau said receipts for the period, which totaled $22,281,642,709, fell $1,167,000,000 below budget estimates, but he added that much of the drop resulted from failure of many income tax payers to make full-year payments last March because of the then-pending pay-as-you-go tax legislation.

Despite the decrease, however, the net revenue was 74 per cent above the $12,799,061,621 collected in 1942. The net deficit for the year was $55,900,795,921 compared with $19,692,245,776 for 1942.

Gavers Boy Tells Of Tank Fighting

LISBON, July 3.—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smallwood of near Gavers have received a letter from their son, J. E. Smallwood, who as a member of the tank battalion in North Africa, was one of the first to enter the city of Bizerte. His letter reads in part:

"With the war over, here in Africa, we are enjoying the peace and quiet, and as we are allowed to tell a little of what we have been doing, so I will tell you a few things done to drive the Germans out of North Africa.

"If you remember the fight at Kassine Pass—we missed that by about one day. We were bombed and attacked by airplanes for the next couple of weeks then we saw our first action on the 31st of March. After coming back from that fight we were attacked by air for another week or so. Then if you remember the battle of Fanduck—we were in that for two days. It was pretty rough.

"In all our contact with the Germans they had much the best position in the hills and mountains and dug in. Our tank received several marks from the shells but we made it back. After that was over we moved back several miles. We had been on the front lines for over four weeks. After a week's rest we went back up for the final push. Our tanks were the first to enter Bizerte and take the town—what was left of it. I never saw a house that was not hit by a bomb or a shell."

New Set of War-Time Rules Issued Germans

STOCKHOLM, July 3.—The Germans were given a new set of war-time rules to observe today.

Noting that the relentless pounding of American and British bombing raids was reducing the physical and psychological resistance of civilians, the Nazi health office issued a brochure advising them what to do when "our knees weaken and your heart beats painfully against your breast with explosive force or jumps into your mouth."

"Dispatches on the brochure were received here today from Berlin. It is necessary to call on 'one's positive, reserve strength' during a raid in order to avoid losing one's head and becoming panicky, Dr. Schenk of the health office said. He described these reserves as "unbending hardness, fanaticism and glowing hate."

SOLONS CONSIDER SUBSIDY REVISION

take into consideration, the President said, "millions" of salaried workers, teachers, clergymen, policemen, firemen, clerks, whose salaries have remained low but whose living standards are being cruelly and inequitably slashed by higher food prices.

Amplifies Arguments

If subsidies held down wages by cutting living costs, the government would save money in the end, the President argued.

He protests that the legislation would deny the executive "any power to purchase farm products for resale at a loss or to make incentive payments to obtain increased production or foodstuffs without the approval of congress."

"I do not believe," he continued, "that congress has had an opportunity to know or to consider how seriously it may cripple our entire food program."

Refusing 201 to 84 to send the bill back to committee for further study, the house then voted 228 to 154 to uphold the veto.

Working swiftly, the banking committee turned out a stop gap resolution to continue CCC from July 1 to next Jan. 1, boost its borrowing authority by $350,000,000 and free it from the controversial subsidy ban. The house roared approval.
